SESSION WAS WELL ATTENDED

Annual Meeting of Teachers' Association Today Marked by Unusually Large Crowd.

MUSIC WAS MUCH ENJOYED

Two Addresses by Dr. H. H. Cherry of Bowling Green, Ky., Were Features of Program.

Marked by the best attendance in years, the annual meeting of the Rush County Teachers' Association was held in the assembly room in the court house today. Practically every teacher in the county was here for the session and enjoyed the pleasure as well as the educational features of the program. The addresses by Dr. H. H. Cherry of Bowling Green, Kentucky, were very much appreciated and were easily the most instructive talks of the day.

The program was opened this morning with a song, "America," and was followed by devotional exercises, conducted by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson. A paper, read by Prof. L. C. Musrush, principal of the Manilla schools, which was appreciated, was preceded by a song, "Spanish Gypsy" rendered by the girls' chorus from the seventh and eighth years of the local schools. The songs by the children of the Rushville public schools were highly enjoyed. They were distributed liberally through the program and always received liberal applause from the teachers.

After a brief rest at 10:30 o'clock, Dr. Cherry, the instructor of the day, made a one-hour address. The work of the instructor was complimented by the teachers during the noon hour and said to be decidedly out of the ordinary. At 1:30 this afternoon Dr. Cherry delivered his second address of the day on "Our Government and Education," showing the relation between the two and how one depended upon the other.

After the talk this afternoon, the High School Girls' Glee club sang "My Love Dwelt in a Northern Land," which was roundly applauded. After a brief period the girls sang "Light at Eventide," and were compelled to respond to an encore. Miss Anna Overman, teacher of music in the public schools, had charge of the training of the choruses for the program.

IT'S AN EIGHT POUND BOY

County Recorder Clell Maple Receives Congratulations Today.

It's an eight pound boy and it arrived at County Recorder Clell Maple's house at exactly ten minutes after six o'clock this morning. Mr. Maple is actually strutting today and is as proud of the addition to his family as an English bull pup is of his face. The county recorder had a jug of cider on tap in the court house this morning, where he "served drinks" to his friends and received their congratulations.

MEET TO ORGANIZE.

The county council held its regular organization meeting in the auditor's office today, when the new members took their seats. The council appropriated $301.06 to make up a deficiency in recent appropriations.

The Chilean government has 1677 miles of railroad completed and 1346 miles under construction, while private interests have 1920 miles completed and 106 under construction.

WANTED THE 35 DOLLARS

Richmond Woman Not so Particular About Her Husband.

A Richmond woman applied to the police yesterday evening for assistance in finding her husband, who left home one week ago, and who incidentally appropriated thirty-five dollars of her money before leaving. She is seeking the money in particular, as she does not care about her better half. The police could not help her as they had seen no man answering the description given by the Richmond woman. She left here for another city to continue her search.

CITY MARSHALL PLAYS DETECTIVE

Assists Indianapolis Woman in Recovering Her Purse Which She Lost This Morning.

CONTAINED $56 AND TICKET

City Marshal Jesse Harlow was called to West Third street this morning to search for a lost pocket-book. A woman giving her name as Mrs. Roberts of Indianapolis lost her purse containing fifty-six dollars and a return ticket. She was in this city engaged in collecting for a portrait firm and her earthly possessions were in the purse. When the city marshal arrived on the scene the woman was almost frantic and could hardly find him for trouble. Together they went back over the route she had taken and located her valuables at the home of Frank Gilson in South Pearl street, where she had carelessly left it on leaving the place.

On recovering her purse the woman was overcome with joy and created quite a stir in that neighborhood, where everyone thought she had suddenly gone insane.

PARTING WAS VERY IMPRESSIVE ONE

Teachers of County Grasp County Superintendent Randall's Hand as They Leave Meeting.

WAS NOTICEABLY AFFECTIONATE

It was only with the greatest difficulty that Orlando Randall, who retired from the county superintendent's office today, restrained himself when he heard the compliments paid to his work while in office by the teachers of the county. All of the teachers in attendance at the annual meeting of the teachers association, grasped the former superintendent's hand as they passed out and none of them failed to leave a word of good cheer for his work in the future. Mr. Randall was noticeably affected by the farewell and was forced to brush back a tear, which pushed its way out onto his face. Mr. Randall has been a very popular county superintendent, his work having met with the approval of the teachers and patrons alike.

MRS. DONNAN TALKS.

Mrs. May W. Donnan of Indianapolis, who has a class here, talked to the Woman's club in Carthage yesterday afternoon on the subject, "The Literary Geography of England."

LIKES WEST AND WILL STAY THERE FOR JUDGE BLAIR

Dick Wilson, Former Local Trainer and Driver is Well Pleased With New Home.

RETURNS FROM LEXINGTON

Accompanied Here by Capt. C. P. McCann, Who Will Buy Horses—Going to Old Glory Sale.

The well known trainer and driver, Dick Wilson, who moved from here to Portland, Oregon, last winter, is back for a brief visit and to attend to several business matters. It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Wilson brought the body of their daughter, Lucile, back here for burial. Mr. Wilson is well pleased with his new home and says that the outlook for his business is very promising. He declares that he intends to make his home there in the future.

The former local trainer had a successful season during the past year, training a large number of colts and racing a number of seasoned horses. He will winter his stable at Pleasanton, Cal., in order to educate the large string of colts which he has. In the spring he will return to Oregon.

Mr. Wilson was accompanied East by his wife and Capt. C. P. McCann of Hood River, Oregon, a prominent horseman of that section of the country. Mr. McCann's wife also accompanied the party East. Mr. McCann only recently purchased the Patchen Boy, 2:10 $\frac{1}{2}$, for a good sum of money from Mr. Wilson. It will be remembered that the Patchen Boy was a "resident" of Rush county for a number of years. Capt. McCann is looking for first class brood mares to add to his breeding establishment at Hood River and expects to buy a number in Rush county if possible.

According to Mr. Wilson while at the present time there is a scarcity of high class race prospects in the Northwest, there is considerable breeding going on, and farmers in that section are constantly adding good brood mares to their list, so that it will only be a short time before that section of the country will be very much on the light harness racing map.

Before returning to their homes in Oregon, Mr. Wilson and Capt. McCann will attend the famous Old Glory sale in New York City, where they will probably buy some good prospects. They will leave next Monday for the eastern metropolis. The two horsemen just returned here from Lexington, where they attended a horse sale. They will be accompanied to New York by Mrs. McCann.

William Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wilson, who is following in the footsteps of his father, is training for the managers of the Bonoday stock farm at Roseburg, Oregon. He is much pleased with the West as is his father.

FALSE ALARM ONCE MORE

Fire Department Called to Box 21 Last Night.

The fire department was called to box twenty-one, corner Perkins and Ninth street, last night about twelve-thirty o'clock. The alarm proved false. Only six of the firemen responded to the call, due to the fact that there have been so many false alarms lately that they supposed this to be one of them. There is no clue to who turned in the alarm.

Jurist, Who Will Grace Sixteenth Judicial Bench For Next Six Years Highly Complimented.

WAS VERY POPULAR ATTORNEY

Shelby County Bar Association Honors New Judge With Reception—Words Flow Freely.

That Alonzo Blair will make one of the best judges that ever graced the bench on the Sixteenth judicial circuit, was the consensus of opinion among the attorneys who attended the meeting of the Shelby County Bar Association in the court room Friday, says the Shelbyville Democrat. The meeting was in the nature of an informal reception for the new judge, who began his new duties at that time. It was universally agreed that Mr. Blair possessed all of the necessary qualifications to discharge the duties of the office in a highly acceptable manner.

As a practitioner Judge Blair has an enviable reputation. He possesses all the traits of a successful lawyer and these have been developed to a marked degree. Few cases of import have been tried in the Shelby circuit court during the past few years but that Mr. Blair has not appeared for one of the litigants.

As a public man, Judge Blair has remained decidedly in the background. He has not sought publicity and has always remained out of the public eye as much as possible. He is courteous, affable and possesses a disposition that is bound to make him one of the most popular jurists in the state of Indiana. Persons who are intimately acquainted with Judge Blair know that he is a man of sterling worth and integrity.

Short addresses were made by practically every member of the bar association at the meeting. Elmer Bassett, president, presided and U. E. Tindall performed his duties as secretary. Rev. A. W. Miller, who is conducting the revival meeting at the First Baptist church, was also present and upon invitation made a short and entertaining address.

Predictions were voluminously made that Judge Blair would fill his new position acceptably and that a new standard would have been set at the expiration of his term of office. Noted lawyers have set on the bench in the sixteenth judicial circuit and this fact was acknowledged by the barristers in their addresses. But all predicted that, in their opinion, it was the ambition of Judge Blair to excel.

Their beliefs were given justification later when Judge Blair arose to respond to the many compliments that had been so generously bestowed upon him. He stated that he would always try to do his duty and that it was his one ambition to fill his new position in such a manner that would call forth criticism even from his most bitter political opponent.

The commission held by Judge Blair was dated Friday and his term of office lasts six years. He begins under very auspicious circumstances and the hearty endorsement given him by the members of the bar association means that local attorneys will work in harmony and conjunction with him during his tenure of office. Judge Blair leaves a very lucrative paying practice and one that yielded him as much financially as the salary in his new position.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM WON

Defeated Independents Last Night by Score of 22-6.

The basket ball game last night between the high school team and the Independents resulted in a victory for the high school. The final score was 22-6. The first half of the game was fiercely contested with neither team having the advantage. The half ended 7 to 6 in favor of the high school. In the second half the Independents showed the lack of training and were easy for their opponents, who soon had the game safe. The teams lined up as follows:

High school—Kirkpatrick and Cameron, forwards; Beltout, center; Petry and Carroll, guards.
Independents—Gunning and Hinerman, forwards; Eubanks, center; Caldwell and Moffett, guards.

Mrs. Ruby Reece of Washington, D. C., Visiting at Lewisville, Acquainted With Belle Elmore.

TELLS OF LONDON MYSTERY

Mrs. Ruby Julian Reece of Washington, D. C., who is spending a few days in Lewisville on the Rush-Henry county line, the guest of her parents, Charles Julian and wife, while enroute from Washington to Lewisville, formed the acquaintance of Madam X, the French actress, who was a friend of Belle Elmore Crippen, the American music hall singer, who was murdered by her husband, Dr. H. H. Crippen, and for whose death Crippen will hang next week.

The actress told Mrs. Reece of her acquaintance with Mrs. Crippen and of her visit with the dead woman in London a year ago. At the visit Mrs. Crippen told of anticipated trouble because of the attentions of her husband to his typist, Ethel Clair LeNeve, who was arrested, tried and acquitted of the charge of an accessory after the fact in the murder of Mrs. Crippen.

FIGURES ON CITY TO COME LATER

Telegram From Census Bureau to the Republican Says City's Population Will be Wired Soon.

VERY MOMENT IT IS READY

The United States Census Bureau at Washington, D. C., will give out the population of Rushville just as soon as the clerks get to that part of the work, according to a telegram received from E. Dana Durand this morning by the Daily Republican. Much interest has been evinced in the question as to whether Rushville had grown or decreased in the number of inhabitants, especially since the population of Rush county has been made public and it was found that it had decreased 799 from the population ten years ago. It was generally believed that the figures received this week were all that would be had and that it would be necessary to figure Rushville's population from that, but that is not the case. The telegram this morning assures the Daily Republican that figures will be wired the moment they are ready.

Address to the People of Indiana

By the Indiana Forestry Association

The subject of forestry has come to be one in which the people who give thought to the future welfare of our State are deeply concerned. The rapid denudation of our forests; the consequent impairment of our timber supply; the destruction of our soil over considerable areas; the gradual diminution of our water level—suggest to all public spirited citizens the necessity of some concerted action to arrest further unnecessary destruction, reclaim the waste places and make provision for forestation so far as it may be practicable. We must not further sin away our day of grace; we must not sit supinely by and see our State further impoverished with respect to one of our richest inheritances. We owe it to ourselves, our children and our State to inaugurate a system of education with re-

If the blood is poor and filled with the poisons from diseased kidneys or inactive liver, the heart is not only starved but poisoned as well. There are many conditions due to impure blood—such as dropsy, fainting spells, nervous debility or the many scrofulous conditions, ulcers, "fever-sores," white swellings, etc. All can be overcome and cured by

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

This supplies pure blood—by aiding digestion, increasing assimilation and imparting tone to the whole circulatory system. Its a heart tonic and a great deal more, having an alterative action on the liver and kidneys, it helps to eliminate the poisons from the blood.

To enrich the blood and increase the red blood corpuscles, thereby feeding the nerves on rich red blood and doing away with nervous irritability, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and do not permit a dishonest dealer to insult your intelligence with the "just as good kind." The "Discovery" has 40 years of cures behind it and contains no alcohol or narcotics. Ingredients plainly printed on wrapper.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of wrapping and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the French cloth-bound book. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

READING ADVERTISEMENTS

A store can afford to handle the best goods at the lowest prices that does the most business.

You can not limit a store by its size or location for the amount of business it will do in a year.

The store which can afford to serve customers to the best advantage is the one that can turn over the goods more frequently and sell the most goods in a year.

The goods would remain on the shelves a long time if the merchant did not advertise continually and tell the people what he has for sale.

The goods become old before they are sold.

Therefore the store at which to trade is the store that advertises

This is true from the standpoint of variety and style, also from the standpoint of economy, for the merchant who advertises does a larger amount of business every year than the merchant who does not advertise and therefore can serve you to a better advantage.

The merchant who tells the public what he has for sale and why it is good is the one to trade with.

ward to our trees and our forests; and adopt measures which shall conserve what we have so far as may be done consistently with our commercial needs, and take steps toward growing trees wherever it can be done to advantage. This is neither the concern nor the work of the few; it is a matter of vital interest to every citizen of the State, and should enlist the earnest co-operation of the many. Our progress will necessarily be slow for a while, but if we go about it in the right spirit and realize that it is a work of the highest public moment, it will nevertheless be sure. The need is at hand and every day's delay will simply increase the difficulty of meeting it later; it is neither the part of economy nor patriotism to further postpone taking up the subject in a broadminded, scientific way. Procrastination will simply result in intensifying the gravity of the situation and the difficulty of putting the great subject upon a rational, sound basis. Every new tree added to our timber supply, every one saved from ruthless destruction—will be a blessing to the future, a source of health and joy to our people and wealth to the State—to serve which should be a part of the religion of us all. We should no longer play the part of the spend-thrift—utterly heedless of tomorrow.

We regard it of prime importance that the young men and young women of the State should be educated upon the subject of forestry, and to that end we hope to have the generous co-operation of schools, colleges and universities. If we are to put forestry on a sound and permanent basis in Indiana, it must be done in a considerable degree by enlisting the assistance of the new generation. We appeal to men and women in every avenue of activity to give to the movement their heartiest assistance. With it we shall not fail to render service of lasting benefit to every

THEY WERE ALL BUSY

Members of Parliament Had No Time

For Women's Row.

London, Nov. 19.—The political excitement was so great inside parliament that the latest and wildest demonstration of the suffragettes outside the walls failed entirely to attract the interest or notice of the members.

Mr. Asquith's program as announced in the house of commons is the shrewdest that could be devised from a partisan point of view. He will undertake to rush through both houses next week only such portions of the budget as his diversified followers are ready to agree upon. He will hang up the features which the Irish find unpalatable. He will attempt to placate the labor revolters by a promise to introduce a bill for the payment of members. He will bend all his energies to meeting an election at the earliest possible moment before the Unionists have time to fully consolidate and the general public can give careful consideration to their rival plan for reforming the house of lords.

It is realized on all sides that Mr. Balfour's speech is having widespread effect throughout the country. There are signs that a rapid change in public opinion is in progress and the government's chances of obtaining a working majority in the new house of commons are disappearing.

There was general comment on the fact that although John Redmond was present, he did not speak in the debate. The only Irish contribution to the discussion came from O'Brien. After remarking on Mr. Redmond's silence, Mr. O'Brien laid the blame for the rupture of the conference on Redmond and O'Connor, who by what they said and did not say in America, and by their vacillation and bad faith were mainly responsible for preventing a great national bargain on trumpery grounds. Mr. O'Brien added:

"Ireland is thus again converted into a mere shuttlecock between the British parties. I do not think the Irish leader has much reason to flatter himself on being dubbed by the enemies of home rule the dictator of England at the price of being the destroyer of Ireland. It is a pity the nation should be rushed at breakneck speed into an election for no conceivable purpose except that certain gentlemen of Ireland are anxious to snatch a new lease of power before it is too late."

Why Cough

Ask your doctor if all coughs are necessary. If not, then why cough? Ask him about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Stop coughing! Coughing rasps and tears. Stop it! Coughing prepares the throat and lungs for more trouble. Stop it! There is nothing so bad for a cough as coughing. Stop it! Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a regular doctor's medicine for coughs and colds.

THE WILLING WAITER WAITS on you promptly as soon as you take a seat at our tables. Choose what you would best like to eat and it will be set before you in the shortest possible time. JUDGE LANDIS WILL NOT TRY BEEF CASES

Packers to Be Heard in Dis- trict Court.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Judge Landis will not try the beef trust cases. What judge will preside over the coming trial of the ten Chicago packers indicted recently by the special grand jury impaneled by Judge Landis last June is yet to be determined. Judge Landis announced that it would be impossible for him to preside at the trials of the beef barons, and he would send them for trial to his colleague in jurisdiction of the United States district court in Chicago, Judge Carpenter. That declaration, construed by many as a partial victory for the packers, did not suit their lawyers. They insisted that he rule specifically on the petition for a change of venue, which they sprung as the first of a series of sensations in the beef trust cases.

This petition was brought under a statute which would transfer their cases to the United States circuit court, and Judge Landis refused to pass on it in any way when he withdrew his own personality from the cases involving the stockyards millionaires.

After much argument, Judge Landis finally agreed to hear the packers' lawyers further next Monday. They will then present that argument backed with witnesses and documents, to support their contention that the change of venue they have demanded should be granted, and that the cases be sent to the United States circuit court instead of to the United States district court, over which Judge Carpenter presides.

PUSHING ALONG

Argentina Is Being Invaded by American Beef Packers.

Washington, Nov. 19.—According to report which has reached the department of commerce and labor, meat packers in the United States are strongly entrenching themselves in Argentina. The report states that already American packers have secured control of two of the seven largest Argentine cattle companies engaged in the production and export of cold storage meats. In addition, the American packers are buying large tracts of land with the object of establishing new plants.

TOOK THE LAW IN HIS OWN HANDS

Texan Shot Man Who Twice Invaded His Family.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 19.—C. H. Johnson, formerly a farmer of Scurry, Tex., but who because of domestic troubles has been living with his family at the village of Brittain and in the city of Fort Worth for several months, came to Dallas yesterday afternoon, went to Room 5 at the Central hotel, and there shot to death Joseph Bullock, who at the time was clad in his uniform of the Texas national guard, he being a member of Battery A, field artillery of Dallas.

Johnson fired five times at a distance of not more than six feet. Four bullets hit Bullock, causing instant death. A fifth bullet entered the right foot of M. H. Vandusen, the hotel proprietor, who rushed onto Johnson in an attempt to disarm him and save Bullock. Johnson surrendered to the police and is in jail. When told that Bullock was dead, he said: "I am glad he is dead and hope he is in hell. He ruined my home, he enticed my wife away from our farm home. I forgave her, took her back and moved alternately to Brittain and Ft. Worth. He yesterday enticed her away to Dallas."

Pulaski, Tenn., Nov. 19.—Sheriff Pittard of Giles county has left for St. Petersburg, Fla., to take charge of Arrowsmith, the absconding cashier of the Commercial Bank and Trust company of this place. The cashier disappeared Aug. 23. A recent audit of the books showed the bank to be short $82,000. The cashier is supposed to have lost the money in bad investments. The sheriff will bring back Arrowsmith, for whom a reward of $1,000 was outstanding.

THE COLONEL GIVES PRESS CLUB A HINT

But Nobody Pretends to Know What It Means.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Here is Colonel Roosevelt's first public comment on the result of the recent elections:

"Every dog has his day, but the nights belong to the cats."

The colonel made this statement in the course of a little talk before Washington newspaper men at the National Press club. Nobody here pretends to say exactly what meaning the colonel intended to convey by the statement, except that apparently he is no wise holds himself accountable for the defeat.

The colonel in this Press club speech also declared that he was contented and happy and was enjoying himself as no other ex-president ever had.

Last night the former president delivered a lecture under the auspices of the National Geography society on his expedition, before a brilliant crowd

A few more decades like the past and Fayette will out-do her big sister to the west.—Connerville News.

Just because Fayette county showed a slight increase in population, the News acts like the proverbial frog, who wanted to puff himself up to be as large as an ox.

The weatherman, who generally sends rain or sunshine at the wrong time to suit the farmers, is about to lose his job. Lecturing before the Institute of Electrical Engineers at London recently Signor Ferranti, the famous electrician, declared that before long the weather will be controlled by electricity, so that the sun will shine or rain fall as needed.

Several months ago Mayor Gaynor of New York was shot. One James J. Gallagher was caught "with the goods on" and was placed in the Hudson county jail of New Jersey. Fortunately Mayor Gaynor was not mortally wounded. He recovered and is back on his job. But the question is beginning to be asked what powerful influence is at work which prevents Gallagher to be brought to justice. It is beginning to look queer.

The tardiness of the United States government in recognizing the new republic of Portugal has become the subject of query and much comment in the press of this country. It is supposed by all enthusiastic believers in republics that the United States would certainly be the first one to give the new republic due recognition. Even Brazil was led to intervene with the United States in behalf of Portugal, but without success. It is said that Portugal was one of the first countries that recognized the republic of the United States, and her attitude has continued most friendly. Now the new republic of Portugal is reaching forth her hands in appeal to the United States for recognition, but instead of receiving that prompt sympathy and help which the United States should have been the first to give, it is withheld for some strange and unaccountable reason.

Heard the Dull Sickenig Thud on Election Night

Roswell People Were Not Sure Whether It Was the Downfall of Insurgency or Their Own Beloved Theodore Hitting the Rocks—Rejoicing Because Beveridge Was Defeated

(By Claude Simpson)

The people of Roswell heard a "dull sickening thud" election night and they wondered what it was. Soon they knew. It was none other than their own beloved Roosevelt hitting the earth. Some there are who insist at least half of the thud was due to insurgency hitting the rocks—but they are in the minority here, Chaves county being Democratic. Although this is a Democratic community Roosevelt seems to be very popular, or rather did seem to be popular. The smoke has not cleared enough to tell what the after effect will be. As in every Democratic community where they are in power locally but not in power in the State and nation they say they believe in voting for "the man." They forget to add that in this opinion "the man" is always running on the Democratic ticket.

Election night here was rather interesting—but in a different way from what it is in the "States." There was no election in New Mexico, but the interest was intense and there was hardly a state in the Union that did not have one or more sons anxious to "get the news from home." Bulletins from Texas always got the loudest cheers. Missouri, Kansas and Iowa were next, while Indiana, Ohio, and Illinois came in for their share of attention. Of course there was much interest in New York as there always is everywhere, but there were not so many "personal" representatives present. If you were not familiar with the local conditions, say in Tennessee for instance, all you had to do was to see who cheered the loudest and go ask him. He knew for he had been reading "the paper from home." It seems to me there is no publication quite so important as "the paper from home." People swear by it here.

There seems to be general rejoicing down here that Senator Beveridge will not be returned to the Senate. He is very unpopular down here both among Democrats and Republicans. It seems that the ill feeling started a few years ago when he made a tour of inspection through New Mexico, getting information for Congress relative to the advisability of admitting the territory to statehood. A reception was planned for him here. The town was decorated very handsomely and the committees were at the station to meet him. You can imagine their chagrin then when the senator refused to come out on the platform even. Since that day Beveridge has been a back number down here, and the people here say he knew no more about the territory after his tour of inspection than he did before.

Roswell has sent an enormous exhibit to the fruit show which is in session in Chicago. All representative products of the Pecos Valley will be shown there and it is the hope of the local Commercial Club to excel any other exhibit from irrigated lands. This means that they will have to surpass the famous Hood River section of Oregon, as well as the fruit of Washington, California, and Colorado. But people are coming here from all those sections and investing in land which would indicate that they have great confidence in the future of the Pecos Valley.

I was at the station the other day when the afternoon train came in from the north. A young man got off and was met by a party of friends. He greeted them and then broke away and walked over to a lawn of bluegrass which the railroad company has.

"Excuse me," he said, "but I have got to look at this grass. Gee but that looks good to me. The first I've seen since we left Kansas."

That is one peculiarity about the trip especially to Rush county people who have been used to seeing trees, trees everywhere, and who have never before known how beautiful green grass is. The young man was not exaggerating. When I came down in July I did not see more than 100 acres in cultivation from Thursday night until Friday evening when we got within one mile of Roswell.

I had heard something of the panhandle of Texas and thought it was an agricultural country. Although they had no crops to speak of this year I guess they do sometimes for it will rain up there occasionally. There is no irrigation there and the crops are entirely dependent on the rainfall, which seems to be very uncertain. This is one great advantage of the Pecos Valley. They are always assured of their crops, and it makes little difference to the farmers whether it rains or not. So when you think of a man starting to the Pecos Valley with the intention of buying land, can you blame him for being disgusted when he travels hours and hours without seeing a sign of cultivation.

By the time some men get within three miles of Roswell they are ready to turn around and start back right then. But after their mind begins to change fast as the train comes into the artesian belt of the Pecos Valley.

The transition is almost unbelievable and that's about the first thing you hear men say when he gets off the train in Roswell—that is if it is his first trip down the valley.

They say that an automobile is an agreeable means of locomotion is a miserable failure. For further particulars, inquire of John Finley.

There are only thirty-four more days. Act accordingly.

Who wants to be a turkey at present?

If it is of any interest to people of fashion, it might be well to mention that the same style of money will be used in buying Christmas presents this year.

A Richmond woman came here to look for her husband and some change which he appropriated. He evidently felt that the change of climate would also do him some good.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace theater will have a complete change of program tonight.

The Vaudet has a fine picture for tonight entitled "The Widow." It is a good comedy and a well arranged picture. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star Grand will offer tonight a comedy satire on easy living, entitled "The Sanitarium." It is a picture especially adapted for a good laugh. Earl Robertson will sing "Underneath the Big Magnolia Tree."

English's opera house, Indianapolis, has for its attraction on Monday and Tuesday, November 21 and 22, Elsie Janis in "The Slim Princess," a musical comedy fashioned by Henry Blossom after George Ade's story of the same name, with music by Leslie Stuart. It is in three acts, the first set in the Principality of "Boriveenia," a Turkish dependency; the second and third, in Washington, D. C. Miss Janis is cast as the "Slim Princess" upon whom all sorts of medicines, exercises and even padding are tried in vain in order to marry her off and give her younger sister, who has the necessary averduoise and wishes to marry, a chance. The reason for this being that in "Boriveenia," the younger daughter may not marry until the older has become a matron and also slenderness is considered nothing less than a crime. "The Slim Princess" and Miss Janis have made a decided hit wherever they have appeared.

A bill of exceptional class is promised for next week at the Grand in Indianapolis, headed by the Rikolette Brothers. These two sensational versatile young foreigners are an entire vaudeville performance in themselves. They present seven distinctly different kinds of acts. Opening with a novelty musical number they follow it in rapid succession with a series of Chinese illusions, acrobatic feats, some wonderful magic, some extraordinary juggling and some aerial gymnastics which are startlingly sensational. The most remarkable fact about it all is that they are stars in every line attempted.

Miss Amy Butler, the diminutive comedienne, will appear with what she calls "The Big Quartette." The tiny actress has made several successes in recent musical comedies, and her manner, personality and singing are extremely attractive.

For her vaudeville tour she has surrounded herself with four clever male singers and the numbers they present are new, novel and most effective.

Binns, Binns and Binns, three of vaudeville's most unique comedians, are Father Jack, Son Joe and Nephew Frank Binns, all eccentric fun makers, who appear as "Musical Vagabonds."

The Three Leightons will offer a skit called "A One Night Stand in Minstrelsy." Music, dancing and fun are contained in this act a plenty, and it is sure to be a most acceptable feature.

One of the most refined and pleasing acts in vaudeville is that presented by Miss Irene Romain. It is called a pianologue, and as done by Miss Romain it is distinctly classy.

Miss Aleide Capitaine, who has been styled "The Perfect Gymnast" and "The Female Sandow" is an exponent of graceful physical culture. She has also been called "Queen of the Air," for she performs all her feats on a trapeze high above the floor.

When in town go to the Beer Hotel for a good dinner, Fourth and Morgan streets.

BANQUET WAS BIG FEATURE

The rising of four Fellowcrafts to the sublime degree of Master Mason was made the occasion of a big celebration by Warren Lodge No. 17, F. and A. M. Thursday, says the Connersville News. Invitations had been sent broadcast and about 200 Masons gathered to witness the beautiful ritualistic work and participate in the sumptuous banquet that was served at 6:30 o'clock. Representatives were present from lodges at Indianapolis, Richmond, Rushville, Brookville, Liberty, Brownsville, Arlington, Fairview and Milton.

Col. E. H. Wolfe, of Rushville, a 33d degree Mason and State Inspector of the order was a guest of honor. Col. Wolfe sat in the Master's chair while the work was given one of the candidates and exemplified the degree in excellent style. The feast began about 6:30 o'clock and lasted for two hours, the repast being most delectable. Worshipful Master R. N. Elliott acted as Toastmaster and talks were made by Col. Wolfe, Rev. W. H. Clark, Dr. S. N. Hamilton, Allen Wiles, R. S. Springer and Jacob Bright of Franklin county.

THE FORTUNE

OUT OF HEALTH

"Haven't we seen you at church, Mr. Duncan?" she said prettily.

"I think perhaps you may have," he conceded. "I have seen you both." The second glass (for he was determined that Angie should not escape) took up all his attention for an instant. "Do you have to go, too?" he inquired out of this deep preoccupation.

"What?"

"I mean do you attend regularly?" he amended hastily.

"Oh, yes, of course," Josie simpered, accepting the glass he offered her. "You make it a rule to go every Sunday, don't you, Mr. Duncan?"

He permitted himself an indiscretion, secure in the belief it would pass unchallenged: "It's one of the rules, but I didn't make it."

"Did you know there was a vacancy in the choir?" Angie asked, taking up her glass.

"Choir?"

"Yes," Josie chimed in; "we were loping you join. I want you to awfully."

"We're both in the choir," Angie explained.

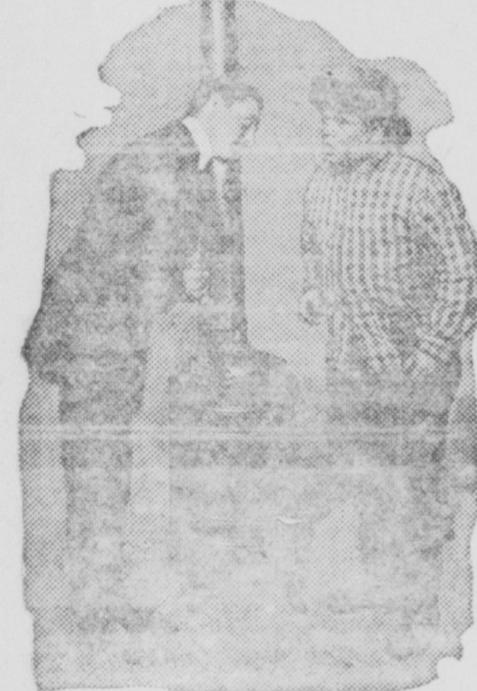

"And all the girls want you to join. Don't they, Angie?"

"Oh, yes, indeed; they're all just dying to meet you."

"I'll have to write and ask," he said abstractedly.

"Why, what do you mean by that?"

Josie's question struck him dumb with consternation. He made curious

"MAY I HAVE THE PLEASURE OF SERVING YOU?"

noises in his throat and fancied (as was quite possible) that they eyed him in a peculiar fashion. "It's—I mean—a little trouble with my throat," he managed to let at length. "I must ask my physician if I may first."

"Oh, I see," said Josie.

"But," he hastened to change the subject, "you're not drinking, either of you. I sincerely hope it's not so very bad."

Angie replaced her glass, barely tasting. "Do you like it, Josie?"

To Josie's credit it must be admitted that she made a brave attempt to drink. But the mixture was undoubtedly flat, stale and unprofitable. She sighed, put it back on the counter and rose to the emergency.

"Mine's perfectly lovely—with a ravishing smile—but it's not very sweet."

"I made them dry for you—thought you'd like 'em that way," he stammered. "Perhaps you'd like 'em better if I put a collar on 'em?"

The chorus negatived this suggestion very promptly.

"Why don't you try a glass, Mr. Duncan?" Angie added with malice, smirking under her brows.

"IT SERVES ME RIGHT," HE CONCLUDED.

"But I must, Mr. Duncan. How much is it?"

Josie fingered the contents of her purse expectantly, but Duncan hung in the wind. He had no least notion what might be the price of soda water. "Two for a quarter," he hazarded, with his disarming grin.

Angie choked with appreciation of this exquisite sally. "Ain't you funny!"

"I'm afraid you're right," he conceded. "Still, I'd rather you didn't think so."

"It's 10 cents, isn't it, Mr. Duncan?"

Josie was offering him a dime. He accepted it without question.

"Thank you very much," said he.

"Good afternoon, ladies."

He was aware of Angie's fluttering farewells on the sidewalk. Josie was lingering on the doorstep in an agony of untrained coquetry. He lowered his tone for her benefit, thereby adding new weight to his bombardment of her amateur defenses.

"Remember you promised to call again."

Her giggles tore his eardrums.

"Thank you, I'm sure," she stam-wasn't for the bargain. I'd chuck it all and— Well, the only way to forget your misery is to work, I suppose."

He pulled himself together and stood up, wondering where he had left his broom, and simultaneously stiffened with surprise, aware that he was not alone. A glance, however, established the connection between the rear door, which stood ajar, and the young woman who stood staring at him in uttermost stupefaction.

He was quick to see the intelligence in Betty Graham's mutinous eyes and the sweet lines of her mouth, too often shaped in sullen mold, and no less quick to recognize that she would carry herself well, with spirit and dignity, once she were relieved of household toil and toil, once given the chance to discard her shapeless, bedraggled and threadbare garments for those dainty and beautiful things for which her starved heart must be sick with longing.

"Good Lord," he thought, pitiful, "it's worse here than I dreamed. Old Graham must need a keeper, and this child has been trying to be that with nothing to keep him on."

"Who are you?" the girl demanded sullenly in a voice a little harsh and toneless. "What are you doing here? Where's my father?"

"Mr. Graham has stepped out on business," Duncan replied. "You are his daughter, I believe?"

"Yes, I'm his daughter, but—" "My name is Nathaniel Duncan. Mr. Graham has been kind enough to take me on as apprentice, so to speak."

Her stare continued, intense, resentful, undulating.

"You mean you're going to work here?"

"That's my intention, Miss Graham."

He nodded gravely.

"What for?"

"To learn the drug business."

"Oh-h!" She flung herself a pace away impatiently. "I'm not a child, and I don't want to be talked to like one."

"I didn't mean to annoy you"—

"Well, you do. You've got no business in a rundown place like this, you with your fine clothes and your fine airs. You didn't come here to learn the drug business. You know as well as I do you've got some other motive."

There was a truth in that to sting him. He smarted under its lash, but held his temper in check because he was sorry for the girl. "Perhaps you're right," he conceded—"perhaps I have some other motive. But that's neither here nor there. I'm here, and it is my present intention to learn the drug business in your father's store."

"I don't believe you, Mr. Duncan, or whatever your name is."

"I'm sorry," he said patiently.

Betty's lips twitched contemptuously.

"Well, saying you do mean to work here"—

"I do."

"You're making a mistake," she snapped. "Father can't pay you nothing."

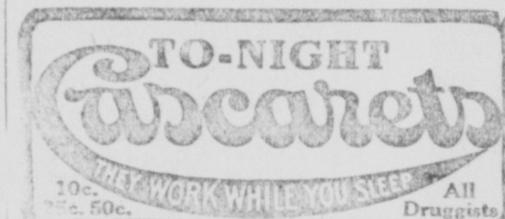

"He'll pay me all I'm worth," said Duncan meekly.

She glared at him an instant longer, then, mute for lack of a sufficiently scornful retort, turned and ran back up the steps, slamming the door behind her.

MEXICO FACES A REVOLUTION

Anti-Diazists Precipitate Trouble At Puebla.

MANY SLAIN IN THE STREETS

Fighting Against the Diaz Regime
Was Not Checked Until 150 or More Persons Were Killed, Mostly Soldiers, It Is Reported—Even the Women Took Part, Firing Upon the Troops From the Balconies.

Mexico City, Nov. 19.—The fighting was severe last night in Puebla. Women shot down on the troops from balconies. One woman killed the chief of police; another wounded a major of infantry. The house where the women were entrenched was reduced to a state of siege. It is reported that 150 persons were killed, mostly soldiers.
A report that soldiers joined the revolutionists is false.

One regiment was sent from here to Puebla. Rumors that railway bridges have been destroyed to prevent them reaching Puebla are not confirmed.
Many arrests have been made here and in other cities, and arms and ammunition were captured. All is quiet in the capital.

Rioting, not against Americans, but openly against the Diaz regime, broke out about noon yesterday in the city of Puebla. The rising was kept down by the government troops led by General Martinez, governor of the state of Puebla, but not without fierce fighting.
The streets in this city are being vigilantly patrolled and the first sign of trouble will be ruthlessly dealt with. Many arrests of supporters of Francisco I. Modero, the revolutionary leader, are being made over Mexico.
Eleven men were arrested at Buena Vista and lodged in jail at Cananea, charged with attempting to start a revolution.

GOOD IMAGINATIONS

Stories of Invading Mexicans Based Upon Fear of Texans.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 19.—Governor Campbell has been in communication with sheriffs and other peace officers in the Rio Grande river territory.
They reported that there are many rumors in circulation of armed bands of Mexicans crossing this side, but none of the alleged invaders have been apprehended. The reports are generally regarded as largely imaginary.
The reported prospective attack on Marathon by Mexicans is not regarded seriously by the people of that town.
It is in the heart of the ranch territory and 100 miles from the Mexican line.

Marathon's Fears Groundless.
El Paso, Tex., Nov. 19.—The Marathon fright appears to have been in the same class with the Rock Springs fright of a week ago, for the "armed" band of Mexicans approaching from Mexico has disappeared like a mirage.
Marathon is still under arms, but scouts out for twenty-four hours have been unable to locate the "advancing Mexicans."

FORMALLY INDICTED

Wife of Wheeling Millionaire Faces
Charge of Attempted Poisoning.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 19.—A special grand jury has found an indictment against Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk for the attempted murder and poisoning of her husband, John O.
Schenk, the millionaire packer. The indictment prepared by Prosecuting Attorney Handlan contains five counts.
Three of the counts charge her with administering poison in the food and medicine of her husband, John O.
Schenk, and two charge her with attempts to administer arsenic in his food and medicine.

No Intention of Appealing.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The department of justice has no intention of seeking to appeal from the decision favorable to the Standard Oil company, rendered by Judge McCall of the United States court in Tennessee. The case is finally settled, it is said, and there is no appeal from the court's decision, since a jury has passed on the facts as represented by the government and the Standard Oil company.

Jewelry Thief Sentenced.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 19.—R. S.
Barr has been sent to the Indiana reformatory to serve a sentence of ten to twenty years for burglary. He confessed robbing the O. P. Nolsom jewelry store of $700 worth of diamonds and jewelry, but said he had been driven to the crime because he was out of work and penniless.

Helped Start Chicago Tribune.

London, Nov. 19.—C. B. Horner, the pioneer in the field of cheap religious publications, is dead here at the age of ninety-two. He went to America in early life and helped start the Chicago Tribune.

SON CONFESSES KILLING FATHER

Horrid Tragedy On a Farm Near Muncie.

MURDER OVER $2 BOARD BILL

Benjamin Smith, Young Farmer, Aged Twenty-Two, Kills His Aged Father by Beating Him Over the Head With a Brick and Then Throws the Body Into Abandoned Well—Cooly Tells Police of His Bloody Deed.

Muncie, Ind., Nov. 19.—Benjamin Smith, aged 22, in the police station here, confessed to the murder of his father, Chas. C. Smith, a farmer, aged 69, who lived near here. The confession was the result of a "sweating" after the young man had been arrested on suspicion.

According to young Smith he and his father had quarreled over the question as to whether or not the young man should pay $2 a week for board at home. The young man struck his father over the head with a brick, felling him to the ground but not killing him, then, so the young man confessed, he struck his father repeatedly with the brick until he thought he was dead.

Next he loaded his father into the family buggy and started to an old well on the farm near by. That was about 7 o'clock in the evening.

On the way to the well the father revived a little and managed to put his arms around the son's neck whereupon the latter beat his father over the head once more with the brick which he had carried with him for that purpose and continued to strike his father again and again until he felt certain that he was dead. However, the son thinks that his father was not dead when he threw him into the well.

"Father drew a long sigh and sort of groaned just as I threw him into the well," the son told the officers.

The brick with bloodstains on it, was found in the buggy. The coroner counted twenty-seven wounds about the murdered man's head and face and any one of half a dozen of them would have caused his death. It is the coroner's opinion that some of the injuries were made with an axe.

BRAVE RESISTANCE

An I. & V. Station Agent Shot in Protecting His Cash Drawer.

Vincennes, Ind., Nov. 19.—Albert
Lee, station agent of the Indianapolis & Vincennes road at Edwardsport, Knox county, is at the point of death with a bullet wound under his heart, and George Boyd, giving his home address as Blake street, Indianapolis, is seriously wounded as the result of resistance on the part of Lee when Boyd attempted to hold him up and rob the station at Edwardsport. Lee is fifty years old and weighs 140 pounds, while Boyd is younger and weighs 185. With a revolver in one hand and a butcher knife in the other, Boyd ordered Lee to throw up his hands. Instead of heeding the order Lee ran toward Boyd and the latter fired. Lee, however, continued his fight and, obtaining the knife and revolver, beat and slashed Boyd into insensibility.

Passersby were attracted by the shot and Lee's calls for assistance.
They found Boyd unconscious, and it was several hours before he was brought to. He was tied with ropes and taken to Bicknell, where he was lodged in jail.

BEAT UP THE WATCHMAN

Cracksmen at South Bend Rob Store,
But Are Quickly Taken.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 19.—After beating Fred Floegler, night watchman, into unconsciousness and running him to the basement on the elevator, William H. and Raymond Deitrich, brothers, blew open the safe of the Robertson brothers' dry goods merchants, and obtained $1,250. Floegler noticed the men at work, identifying one of them by his large red hands. When he attempted to interfere they overpowered him.

The robbery was discovered by a patrolman who found the rear door open and stumbled over the insensible watchman, who was taken to his home and revived. Upon the watchman's identification officers hurried to the Deitrich home and captured the two men and recovered all of the booty.

They Served Without Pay.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 19.—Assault and battery cases growing out of the strike of union molders at the plant of Robinson & Co., are being heard in the city police court and leading business men are being pressed into jury service. In one case in which a striker was found guilty and fined $1 and costs, Timothy Nicholson was a member of the jury and its foreman. The jurors waived all claims to pay in order to reduce the penalty of the man convicted.

Maimed by His Own Gun.
Evansville, Ind., Nov. 19.—While out hunting with a party of friends Henry Schaffer of Posey county, accidentally shot off one of his arms at the elbow.

WRITE ENDLESS CHAIN OF LETTERS

Anonymous Epistle Writer is Again at Work in Rushville And Appealing to Superstitious.

GOVERNMENT TAKES A HAND

The endless chain letter operator has broken loose again in Rushville. Such letters are always anonymous and are under the ban of the postoffice department. The letters, sent broadcast this week, predict dire results unless the prayer be re-written and forwarded to another, "that the chain be not broken."

The government authorities have tried time and again to locate the originator of the endless chain letters, but have failed each time. They appeal to the superstitious, who hasten to comply with the mandate set forth in the communication. A large number of such letters are in circulation at the present time.

CONTINUE NOBLE MURDER HEARING

Trial of Self-Confessed Slayer of Albert Sprague Will Not Come up Until Next Year.

TO BE CELL BOSS FOR A WHILE

Ben Noble, confessed slayer of his employer, Albert Sprague, will get to be a cell boss at the Marion county jail a while longer, and will not have to give up that position that he says just suits him, says the Greensburg News. This fact is determined when it is known that the case against Noble for the murder committed on July 17, has been continued until the January term of Decatur circuit court.

The action of the previous jury in failing to agree on a verdict when Noble had pleaded guilty to a grand jury indictment, charging murder in the first degree, caused Judge Hacker to come to the conclusion that it would be next to impossible to secure a jury at this time that could reach an agreement. For this reason he ordered the case continued and when it comes to the second hearing there will be a great deal of evidence concerning the crime that will be introduced to enlighten the jury on the bold character of the most sensational murder ever committed within the confines of this county.

All members of Mahoning Council No. 36, Daughters of Pocahontas, are requested to meet at the home of Augustus Wilkinson Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to attend the funeral of Mrs. M. L. Wilkinson.

Nothing Too Good For the People of Rush- ville and Rush County

After being closed down for three weeks remodeling our mill, we are again running under full steam, and are making "CLARK'S PURITY FLOUR" better than ever before, so you know it must be very fine, as it always has been the best on the market. Others have FLOUR that they sell under the brand of PURITY, but it will not stand the test with "CLARK'S PURITY"
